WE ARE...

A team of professionals committed to the future of young people, both personally and professionally. With teaching training, experience in the field of international programs and a long history with schools and many other educational institutions.

We are aware that future professionals will have to gain a foothold in society and in working environments facing very competitive conditions.

Surveys show that the most demanded professional profiles for vocational, intermediate or senior positions in the most developed countries often have studied some time abroad.

To this end theEX offers families some of the best options for studying abroad.

GROWTH MODEL

Depending on the stage the participant is at that point, the EX recommends one of these types of programs:

What stage are you in?

SPAIN

Talent, innovation, culture and uniqueness

"It is only possible to grow when thinking big. It is only possible to move forward when looking for ahead."

Alice Munro

WHY SPAIN?

Studying in Spain has become in recent years a safe bet in education for two main reasons:

More than 500 million people in the world speak Spanish. Spanish is the 2nd-ranking language in terms of number of speakers and the second most spoken language in international communication.

The international prestige education in Spain has acquired. Education in Spain is compulsory for people under 16 and the education authorities have given citizen of other countries the opportunity to join the education community, making it more rewarding for everyone involved.

Spanish education system

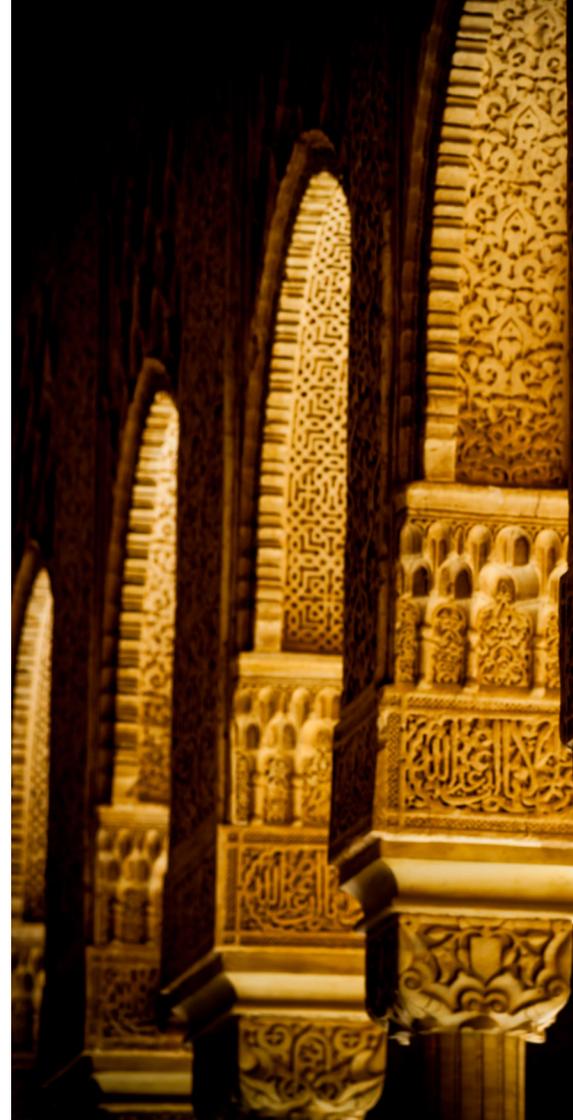

The high quality of the Spanish education system is internationally recognized. In general terms, three different kinds of schools exist: “escuelas públicas” (state schools), “escuelas privadas” (private schools) and “escuelas concertadas” (semi-private schools). The program hereby presented by theIEX is carried out in private or semi-private schools with host family accommodation or, in some cases, residential accommodation.

The Spanish school system is structured in four levels: “Infantil” (3-5 years), “Primaria” (6-11 years), “ESO – Enseñaza Secundaria Obligatoria” (12-15 years) and “Bachillerato” (16-18 years).

Our host families

Host families are as diverse as the landscape or the traditions in Spain. Spanish society is modern, open to diversity and tolerant with different cultures, but generally speaking, the most usually found is the traditional Spanish family, where one or both members of the couple work outside of the house. It is not strange to find a stay-at-home mom, though.

All our host families are carefully selected with help from the schools and are police-checked.

The Intensive Spanish Course offers the right balance between classroom study, self-study and of course enough free time to explore Madrid in all its beauty.

This course is the perfect recipe for fast results since classes are taught at a quick pace and of course completely in Spanish, with an excellent teaching technique that actively engages in what the student learns, making it a lot easier to memorise. The communication skills improve learning useful phrases and practicing grammar.

What is the DELE extension? The DELE (or Diploma de Español Como Lengua Extranjera) is the internationally recognised official qualification of Spanish as a second language. So, if you need to certify your Spanish skills for studies/employment or you just love Spanish, this is your course.

CANADA

Globalism, educational innovation, safety and tolerance.

*“In life you have a few places, or perhaps one where something happened;
and then there are all the other sites.”*

Alice Munro

WHY CANADA?

Because Canada is one of the most developed countries in the world, with a high standard of living and soaring safety and welfare indicators. It also has one of the best educational systems in the world.

Canadian society is the result of a multicultural education process and a concept of education that encourages open and welcoming individuals. It is one of the most popular destinations for study.

Canadian education system

The system is built on strong pillars of social prestige of their teachers, their facilities and their results. 95% of the population studies in the public sector, although there is a small minority too being educated in private schools.

This system has been evaluated and recognized by the PISA report prepared by the OECD. According to this report, Canadian students excel in areas of learning such as reading and maths, and even more importantly, in skills to develop a successful career and personal life.

The Canadian educational system offers students who wish to study in Canada international program that has been running for almost 30 years.

The methodology, the annual distribution of subjects and the active involvement of students in designing their own learning are, among others, distinctive elements of this system that significantly enriches the students who are integrated in it.

Our host families

Host families in Canada are particularly hospitable. It is a society forged in coexistence and multiculturalism so that the alien is not only welcome, but someone from whom they expect to learn and whose company they enjoy.

Even though Canada's French-speaking population is supposed to be a bilingual English/French, the reality is that most of the population born in the French part of the country is either only French-speaker or is much more proficient in French than they are in English.

In order to change this, the Canadian Government put in place many years ago, the so-called, Explore Programs. These programs offer the possibility to Canadian French-speakers teenagers to take part in English Intensive Programs during the summer where they gain credits for school and improve their English thanks to classes, workshops, activities and the time spent with their English-speaking teachers, counselors and host families.

Although most of the students are French-Canadians, a small percentage of international students is also allowed to take part in these programs and the IEX offers its students the opportunity to participate in one of these high-quality and demanding programs.

Junior Academic Programs

Having the possibility of carrying out an immersion program in the Canadian education system is a prime opportunity to improve English language proficiency and to participate actively in the classroom in this country. Although it is very different to the educational structure in other countries, it is easy to get used to it and it offers international students an educational framework in which to develop academic excellence and personal skills.

Depending on the length of stay, theEX offers the following educational programs:

- School Immersion Short Stays (4 to 16 weeks)
- Academic Year Program

“Any destination, no matter how long and complicated, actually consists of a single moment: the moment when the man knows who he will always be.”

Jorge Luis Borges

High School Immersion. Short stays

Joining a Canadian High School is an excellent way to explore the educational system as any local student would. This program offers several possibilities in terms of duration. You can choose from 4, 8, 10, 12 or 16 weeks

Students are integrated into an international program that has been in Canada for more than 30 years and that is accessed more each year by international students, primarily due to the excellent results it delivers. This education system is considered one of the world's most successful one and it has been recognized as such by the most influential international organizations.

UNITED KINGDOM

"Oh, you're sure to do that, if only you walk long enough."

Lewis Carrol."

WHY UNITED KINGDOM?

A country with great experience in hosting foreign students both in their schools and in their language schools.

Its educational system has included for decades international programs that facilitate the integration of foreign students.

On the other hand, we must not forget that it has a rich and interesting cultural history and that it is the birthplace of the English language.

British education system

The English education system is based on the 1988 law, with some modifications in his later years. The National Curriculum was put in place with this law as well as new methods of valuation (Key Stages), measures that improve the quality of education by promoting competition among schools, alternative financing systems that give greater autonomy to schools and programs of cooperation and assistance between them. All this has contributed to make education in the UK internationally recognized.

UK has been welcoming international students for decades and the experience of international students in their classrooms is outstanding.

Our host families

Like in any stay abroad, staying with a family is the option that allows more and better immersion in a country.

English culture is well-known in most places in the world and some ideas are not cliché at all: the English accent is hard for most ears and it is difficult to get a handle of the sounds in the first days of the program; tea is a time of great importance and it is interesting to share it with them; British punctuality is a reality; usually they take good care of their homes and cover almost all floors in the house completely with carpets. But they always welcome foreign students with hospitality because hosting has already become a classic in its culture.

WHERE TO START?

Studying abroad is one of the most important steps that a student can take in his or her academic career. Therefore, questions arise that need to be answered at the right time: Is this the best choice? What is the most appropriate country? What should I consider? There are many questions that may arise. Usually, the best option to answer them is to contact theiEX and request an appointment.

The main goal of this meeting will be to answer most, if not all, questions regarding the options of the student for the international experience and clarify the features of each program and the next steps to take.

2 ENROL THE STUDENT IN THE SELECTED PROGRAM. REGISTRATION FORM AND AGREEMENT:

TIP

It is often necessary to carry out other legal procedures such as applying for a visa. Some of these can take several weeks so it is important to take action as soon as possible.

Also, registration deadlines vary and not all schools finish their enrolment process on the same date, so it is important not to leave the decision to the last minute.

In addition, flights prices usually improve if booked well in advance.
